DORNER PITCHED FINELY

Home Team Bunched Hits Off Witte in Two Innings, While Donlin's Error Did the Rest for Them.

Boston, June 2.—Kelley's men signified their home-coming by soundly trouncing to New York Giants yesterday, 4 to 0. Dorner pitched excellent ball, allowing but four hits and getting out of two bad holes which were due to his own wildness. In the first inning he passed the first two men up, Shannon and Tenney, and then Donlin made one of the four hits, which was a scratch, filling the bases with none out. Seymour raised a high one for Dahlen, and Needham hit into a double play, Ritchey to Dahlen to McGinn.

Another pass and Witte's safe crack made things look bad also in the second but Beaumont gathered Shannon's fly in left center and no one scored. Dorner again filled the sacks in the third, passing two men and hitting another, but Shannon was again the third out on a fly to Bates. Seymour got a single off the Boston twirler in the fifth, but Needham failed to connect safely, and the inning closed. New York's fourth hit came in the eighth, made by Needham, with one down, but Donlin hit into a double play, and the chances of the Giants were dashed. Thus, although wild, Dorner pitched fine ball.

Witte was rather easy for the home team, three hits being bunched in the second inning and resulting in two scores. Bowerman's double, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly made half and two singles completing the brace. Donlin's heave of Bowerman's grounder allowed the big catcher to tally the third score in the fourth. In the eighth, Boston bunched three more hits off Witte, who himself contributed a pass, enabling Kelley's men to send one man across the plate, McGinn being doubled at the plate on Dahlen's fly to Shannon. The score:

Innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R H E
Boston 0 2 0 1 0 0 1 4 0

Summary: Earned run, Boston 2; two-base hit, Bowerman; sacrifice hit, Dahlen, McGinn, Sweeney; Dorner, Bates; double play, Ritchey to Dahlen to McGinn, Dahlen; fly to Bates to McGinn, Shannon to Needham, Doyle to Tenney to Needham; base on balls, by Dorner by Witte 2; hit by pitcher, by Dorner; stolen base, Bates; struck out, by Dorner, by Witte.

CELT WINS BROOKLYN HANDICAP.

Three-year-old from James R. Keene's Stable Wins Big Race.

Gravesend Race Track, Brooklyn, N. Y., June 2.—James R. Keene pulled off another rich stake when his three-year-old, Celt, won the great Brooklyn handicap yesterday afternoon. There were one of the four three-year-olds in the race, was the favorite, and he fulfilled all expectations.

Poor judgment in arranging the date of the Brooklyn handicap this season cost the Brooklyn Jockey club $50,000 in cold cash. It was a mistake to run the handicap a day after a holiday like Memorial day. Few have any cash left after having a holiday followed by a Sunday to dispose of it. The result was that the attendance was just about that of a good Saturday, say about 20,000. To those who have seen 35,000 and 40,000 people at the track on Brooklyn handicap day, the attendance yesterday was a great disappointment.

ACTORS SANG.

As The Crowd Quit Burning Theatre in Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 2.—Fire broke out in Keith's theatre yesterday afternoon while a matinee was in progress. In fifteen minutes the roof was in flames.

At the first alarm the people began to march out in perfect order. Within a few minutes most of the audience had reached the street.

Ned Hastings, press agent, came upon the stage and ordered the orchestra to keep on playing.

"There is no danger," he shouted. "The fire is next door and is well under control."

A musical specialty was in progress when the fire broke out.

The actors on the stage all burst out singing, following the air the orchestra was playing.

The fire started from crossed wires in the roof.

CABOT.

Edward Burnham has completed his cellar and will soon begin the erection of a house.

George Harvey of Philadelphia arrived in town Thursday and will spend the summer at his farm here.

Frank Walbridge was in St. Johnsbury Thursday for the purpose of consulting an oculist in regard to his eyes.

Memorial exercises were held at the town hall Saturday afternoon. A drill was given by the scholars of the village school and speaking by scholars of the different schools of the town. The exercises closed with an address by G. Herbert Pape of Barre.

A hotly contested game of base ball was played Saturday between the local team and a picked team from Hardwick. The game ended with the score five to two in favor of Hardwick after 11 innings of play. The score was two to two at the end of the 10th inning. In the 11th inning a short hit into right field and a wild throw to the plate lost the game for Cabot, the Hardwick team scoring three runs. This was the first game of the season and the local team did excellent work considering its lack of practice.

Sporting Notes.

Hughy Jennings' new war cry is said to be a choice of blend between the last mutterings of a slowing up locomotive and the yell of Geronimo after scalps. That ought to supplant "Ey-Eah."

Hamilton, the University of Louisville runner, turns out to be an ex-western college champion in the 100 yards. He is training for the Olympic trials and hopes to make the team. He has done ten seconds.

Joe Delehanty, brother of Jim, once of the Cincinnati Reds and many others, is said to be sure of his job in the outfield of the St. Louis Cardinals. He is said to more closely resemble his brother, the late Ed, than any other member of the family.

Too Well Done.

"Yes, dear," continued the newly made husband as he gazed despondently at the steak that was broiled almost to a crisp, "you are very charming, and you do several things uncommonly well, but you don't know how to cook a steak."

"And yet, my love," answered the culprit with a becoming penitent air, "you said yourself that it was very well done."

It is scarcely necessary to add that the cyclone was averted.

Prayers in Belgium.

In Belgium at 6 o'clock evening you hear from every cottage the voices of father, mother, children and servants saying their prayers, and it is much the same at noon.

GAIN.

How shall we count the gain from what we miss?

The wasted blooms where hangs the perfect rose?

The blighted buds of bush and bough that bear the luscious fruit?

The dead, whose dying makes a kingdom strong?

Weak hearts that mourn above an old-time loss

Gain not the glory of the sacrifice. They know the pain, the joys, the hope, the life, the victory of the cross.

But not the final victory of the cross.

MILLS RESUME FULL TIME

Curtailed Ends at Numerous Establishments

IN SOME CASES WAGES

Aid Resumption—At a Few Points Short Schedules Continue—A Summary of New England's Textile Status To-day.

Boston, June 2.—From all over New England come reports of resumption of full time schedules in many factories, fully 55,000 workers being benefited by this and other wage conditions which signal the return of prosperity after months of semi-idleness in the mills.

The welcome change is due largely to an increased demand for textile goods. The long period of curtailment, has depleted stocks in the hands of jobbers, and the spring trade has revived business with the retailers.

Among the cotton mills which resumed work on full time yesterday were the Naumkeag of Salem, employing 1,500 hands, who have been working only four days a week for two months.

The cotton mills of the B. B. & R. Knight company, which have been running forty-one hours weekly for twelve weeks, went on a full-time schedule of fifty-eight hours.

The increase affects 6,000 operatives in Providence, Woonsocket, River Point, Arctic, Natick, Lippit, Pontiac, Centerville, White Rock and Jackson, R. I., and at Hebronville, Dodgeville, Readville and Manchung, Mass. The Crompton company's cotton plant at Crompton, R. I., which has been running four days a week, the Warwick mills of Centerville, R. I., and the Warren company of Warren, R. I., have also adopted full-time schedules.

In Nashua, N. H., the Jackson and Nashua companies increased their running time from twenty-nine to forty hours a week yesterday. They employ 4,000 persons.

The Berkshire cotton mills of Adams, with 3,000 on the payroll, are on full time this week. They have been running three days a week for some time.

The McCallum Hosiery company mills of Northampton, which have been shut down for several weeks, started on practically full time yesterday morning.

In Fall River the seven cotton mills of the Fall River Iron Works company, employing 5,000, have resumed on a full-time schedule after operating on half-time two months. Many of the other Fall River mills expect to be running full time within two weeks.

The Cohasset yarn mills of Taunton have adopted a schedule of five days weekly, in place of one of three days, and the Weir store foundry of that city will start on full time this week.

More than 900 granite workers went back to work in the Quincy granite industry yesterday as a result of the final settlement of a strike which has been in since May 14.

The mill business in Rhode Island is much improved.

In the American Woolen company plants all of the departments are being operated full time and five days a week, with overtime in some of the preparatory departments.

The Crown and Snowden mills are working overtime, and it is said that there are enough orders in sight to warrant the operations of the mills overtime for an indefinite period.

At the Riverside mills there is more activity than at any of the other plants of the American Woolen company. The combing and carding departments are running several hours in the evening.

At the Earncliffe mills the rush of business still continues, and the mill is being operated with full forces both day and night.

The building of the Pocasset Combining company will be completed within a few days and is in readiness for business about July.

The Joalin mills at Merino, Dyerfield, Richmond, Rockland, Scituate, Olneyville and Pownessett are being operated on full time.

There is an improvement in the conditions at the National Providence mills, but as yet there has been no change from the working schedule.

The five-day-a-week schedule at the Valley Worsted company is still being followed, but the departments are running in full during that period.

The demand for employment by the thousands of mill operatives in Olneyville has caused the management of the Riverside mills to refuse admittance to the mills to those seeking employment.

Beginning yesterday, those wishing to get work must apply to the office of the plant on Aleppo street.

At the Atlantic mills there seems to be no change. It is said that fully 200 looms are idle, and that the other 2,200 looms in the mills are running only two days a week.

After being on part time for several months, all cotton operatives in Connecticut resumed work yesterday on full time.

With the rising of the tide sea became caught under the pier and filled. No one was hurt. As the tide fell the fittings in readiness for the opening of the summer season, the loss will be heavy.

The Emerson Shoe

HONEST ALL THROUGH

The fit of an Oxford depends entirely on how the upper leather is cut. The Emerson Oxford is cut to fit naturally, so that you are not compelled to bind your instep by tight lacing in order to prevent a flaring edge about your ankle.

Furthermore, since the EMERSON Oxford does not require tight lacing, which always stretches the best of upper leathers, it lasts longer and always retains its stylish shape.

Let us show you the "Shoe that Fits the Ankle" and prove to you that it is honest all through.

TAFT ONLY MEANT TO PRAISE GRANT.

Says He Had No Intent to Attack Him in His Memorial Day Address.

Washington, June 2.—Secretary of War Taft, when apprised that comment had been caused by his reference, in his Memorial day address in New York, to Gen. Grant's resignation from the army before the Civil war, said:

"I am very much distressed that anything I have said should be construed to be an attack upon Gen. Grant's memory. I yield to man in my admiration for Gen. Grant, in my estimate of his remarkable qualities and character, and of the great debt that the nation owes him. In my memorial address I attributed his resignation from the army in 1854 to his weakness for strong drink, because from Mr. Garland's life of Gen. Grant and the evidence he cites and from other histories, I supposed it was undoubtedly true. I referred to the matter only because it seemed to me that it was one of the great victories of his life that he subsequently overcame the weakness."

HEARST GAINS IN RECOUNT.

Nineteen More Votes Allowed in Five Ballot Boxes.

New York, June 2.—Five more ballot boxes gave William Randolph Hearst a gain of nineteen more votes in the mayoralty recount before Justice Lambert in the Supreme court yesterday. His total then was 104 votes, gained since the beginning of the recount.

The justice has declared his intention of holding court six days a week, and at night, if necessary, to get the count finished. He may go so far as to take charge of a table himself in order to facilitate the work.

The facts thus far disclosed by the opening of the sixteen ballot boxes, wherein William R. Hearst gained eighty-five votes, showing conclusively that the conspiracy to defeat the will of the people at the election was widespread, has cast a wet blanket over the attorneys for McJellian.

That the boxes thus far opened are all from the lower district of Manhattan means little as to the limitation of the fraud.

BOSTON POLICE PREVENT NOISE OF THE ANCIENTS.

Artillery Company Fifes and Drums Are Squelched by Authorities.

Boston, June 2.—Although restricted in their traditional custom of sounding drum and fife at daybreak before officers' homes, as a means of summoning them to the annual field day, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company ushered in the 270th anniversary of the body today by sounding the reveille before the State House and in front of the Soldiers' Monument on Boston Common.

Permission was granted by Police Commissioner O'Meara, who had forbidden the other part of the ceremony. The corps which performed the work of "drumming up," after finishing their early duties, returned to the armory to get the two bottles of the Ancient's for the march to the State House, where Acting Governor Draper awaited the body for escort to the Old South church.

Examiner Paine Unable to Decide How Children Were Killed.

Plymouth, Mass., June 2.—According to his report filed with the superior court here yesterday, Medical Examiner A. Elliott Paine of Brockton has been unable to determine just how the Ball children met their deaths. He states, however, that no bones in the bodies of the children were broken.

The medical examiner states that both bodies were in a badly decomposed condition when found and that they had remained in the ground so long that it was impossible to find any marks of violence. Their skulls were not injured, Mr. Paine says.

NEW RECORD BY MAURETANIA.

Makes 635 Knots in One Day's Steaming.

London, June 2.—Despite the fact that she is using but three propellers the Cunard line steamer Mauretania, which left Liverpool May 27, is making a remarkable run to New York. She has already broken one ocean record, that for the best day's run, according to a wireless telegraph despatch received here by the Cunard Steamship company. She covered 635 miles from noon May 30 to noon May 31, averaging 23.5 knots an hour.

PIERCE MUST STAND TRIAL

Extradited to Texas by Supreme Court

UNDER INDICTMENT THERE

On Charge of Perjury—Penalty Imprisonment from Two to Five Years—Charge Made in Connection With Testimony in St. Louis.

Washington, June 2.—The supreme court of the United States yesterday affirmed the decision of the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Missouri in the extradition case of H. Clay Pierce of the Waters-Pierce Oil company of St. Louis, holding him subject to extradition to Texas, where he is under indictment on a charge of perjury in swearing that his company had not entered into a conspiracy in restraint of trade when the company made application to do business in Texas.

It is contended that the Waters-Pierce company is a part of the Standard Oil company.

PIERCE IS SILENT.

No Statement From Him or From His Representatives.

New York, June 2.—It is said at the office of H. Clay Pierce that Mr. Pierce is in this city, but no statement of his intentions as a result of the supreme court decision was obtainable.

It was intimated that Mr. Pierce might say something later as to his plans.

MRS. PRINCE LOSES $5,000 SUIT FOR KISS.

Dr. Temple of Lowell Exonerated by Jury in Action of Mrs. Prince.

Lowell, Mass., June 2.—Mrs. Nellie S. Prince loses the $5,000 damage suit she brought against Dr. F. S. Temple, in which she charged that he had kissed her against her will while he was examining her for heart trouble.

The jury in the case, which went out at 11 a. m. Friday and was still in session when court adjourned Friday afternoon, returned a sealed verdict to Judge King as 10 a. m. yesterday in favor of Dr. Temple.

The doctor was immediately surrounded by friends when the verdict was read, and was heartily congratulated. Mrs. Prince, who was also in court, appeared quite calm at the adverse decision.

Mrs. Prince charged that when she was alone with Dr. Temple in his private office on December 14, 1907, and while the doctor was testing her heart action, he suddenly imprudently and unexpectedly kissed her without her consent.

Dr. Temple entered a general denial to the whole charge. The case came to trial last Thursday, and taking of evidence consumed that day and Friday morning. In his charge to the jury Judge King called attention to the risk that doctors run of such suits and to the desirability of the profession being adequately protected in law against being wrongfully sued. The jury was out five hours considering the case before it found the verdict returned yesterday.

MR. CLEVELAND AT HOME IS ALMOST RECOVERED.

Former President Sits on Porch Reading After Hearty Breakfast.

Princeton, N. J., June 2.—Former President Grover Cleveland, who returned to his home here last night from Lakewood, N. J., where he had gone about two months ago, arose early yesterday and, after a hearty breakfast, sat reading on the veranda of his residence.

"We are glad to get back home again said Mrs. Cleveland. Mr. Cleveland is very well, though not entirely recovered. He continues to get along nicely. We have made no plans for the future, as yet, but we expect to stay at Princeton for some time."

The Cleveland home was decorated with many flowers in honor of the homecoming of Mr. Cleveland.
